

TRANSCRIPTFRONTLINE: The Rise of ISIS*A Refugee Family Adjusts to a New Life*Video 1: The Arrival

Hala and her children have been granted asylum in Germany.
They will be supported financially and given a home in the mountain town of Goslar.

Refugee 1: Arriving in Goslar

HALA: I fear so much that I won't be able to see my country again. I know that I'm going to have a better life. And I hope there will be better people.

FARAH: Do you know what Germany looks like? It looks like Syria a long time ago.

SISTER: That's right. What's nice about Germany is—HALA: This is a small town. You can't talk about Germany in general.

The only thing I fear is religious intolerance. People say that here, Muslims are seen as terrorists. Let's be honest about it. This frightens me. If I feel this happening, I may be forced to return. This is the only fear I have.

MOHAMMED: We're now in Goslar!

HALA: Welcome. There isn't a single shelled house.

MOHAMMED: Now we've arrived!

HALA: It smells like soap.

SARA: This room is nice.

FARAH: Is this a room or the whole thing?

SARA: We're not leaving this house. This house is very nice. What's there?

FARAH: There are two million beds upstairs.

HELEN: The house is lovely and we'll go to school and everything. It's safe and we won't be afraid anymore. When we first came here this morning, the birds were saying. "Welcome to Germany." They're talking strangely. I think they might be happy. They're happy we're here in Germany.

HELEN: [exploring the town] Good, there's no one laughing in our face.